NEW BUSINESS FOR BAY ST. LOUIS

Two enterprising brothers, Joe and Norman Comprieta, will celebrate the Grand Opening of their Super Shell Service Station on U. S. Highway and Main Street this week-end.

Wonderful prizes will be given away to lucky persons who register at the station on August 24-25.

The awards will be given at 8 p.m. August 25, and it is not necessary to be present to win if you are among the lucky.

The public is invited to drop in and see the excellent equipment and up-to-date building housing this new business.

The owners assure all patrons their cars will receive the most expert service and repair work to be found in this or any part of the county.

An electric Speed Timer has been installed in Bay St. Louis and spot checking is being done throughout the city in an all out drive to curtail speeding motorists in town.

Major John Scafide told this reporter motorists are literally making a race track of the town with utter disregard to speed limits, and the danger has become grave. Letters and complaints have been pouring into the City Hall requesting drastic measures to curtail this situation.

The city council and police force checked the situation and found it to be a dangerous one. The installation of the mobile electric speed timer will give accurate information of the streets on which speeding is most prevalent.

North Beach, in the vicinity of the Yacht Club was checked the early part of this week, as was Dunbar Avenue. The unit will be moved into all areas of the city. At the present testing stage caution signs have been posted by the City Council to warn motorists of the checks.

When the testing period is completed these signs will be removed, and motorists will either drive within speed limits regulated by the authorities or be subject to arrest.

With the opening of schools next week, the hazards created by speed violators will increase with the added number of children who must cross streets going and coming from schools.

"It is hoped that all motorists will adhere to speed regulations, and considering the perils they create when pushing for added acceleration of their cars," said Mayor Scafide. "We don't want arrests, we only want to make our town safe."

The following will compose the faculty of St. Joseph Academy during the 1956-57 term.

Mother Mary Eveline, Superior, replaces Mother Anna Mary, now Superior at McNicholas High School, Cincinnati, Ohio.

High School faculty: Sister Louise Raphael, Sister M. Albertine, Sister Louise Ellen, Sister Mary Jean, Mrs. William Argus.

Grammar and Elementary graders: Sister M. Grace, Sister M. Leonard, Sister M. Lawrence, Sister Maria, Sister Mary Winifred, Mrs. A. C. Vix, Mrs. A. C. Curte, Miss Mary Staehle, Mrs. L. Kergosien, Mrs. C. Moran.

Sister Miriam Joan is convalescing at the Terrebonne General Hospital in Houma, La.

However, the summer will end on a high note of entertainment here with two large fairs scheduled for this and next weekend.

On Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 25-26, the Holy Name Society of St. Clare's Church, Waveland, will feature a two-day event with all the usual booths and games so much enjoyed at all fairs and outings. The fun will begin in the late afternoon of each day, and continue until all comers have enjoyed themselves to the fullest.

In Bay St. Louis, the Knights of Columbus will sponsor a three-day event, beginning on Saturday evening, Sept. 1, through Monday evening, Sept. 3. Here on the grounds of St. Stanislaus Day School the bunting and booths will be displayed. Refreshments, food, cold drinks, games, in fact, food and fun of all varieties will be on hand to entice those who attend.

Proceeds from each event will be used for worthy causes, so to end the summer gaily, plans to take in both events, and bring all members of the families, from the youngest to grandma and grandpa.

LIGHTNING DOES REPEAT

Edmond, Okla.—That old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place has no meaning for Vernon L. Beechman, local fireman. Beechman rushed to the scene when lightning hit a house and set it afire. By the time he arrived, rain had extinguished the blaze. While Beechman and another fireman were on the roof, patching a hole, lightning struck Beechman. Leaving with Doussan were John Perkins and Larry Peterson, of Clermont Harbor.

Prior to joining this active branch of service Doussan was in the Marine Reserve for 1½ years.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Doussan of this city. Leaving with Doussan were John Perkins and Larry Peterson, of Clermont Harbor.

The white collar class is usually the first to feel the pinch of the high cost of living; this was so in the twenties but the white collar class hasn't done much about it.

A man who sticks to his principles is stubborn; a man who doesn't is a hypocrite—so what? Answer the question yourself.

WAVELAND

GEORGETTE B. HALL

There are no who heard the at Montgomery, Alabama, about his condition and started to have him sent home. Eddie III of Waveland is hospitalized in the Polio Center in New Orleans. Young James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James McMillin of South Street. He was spending a short vacation visiting in New Orleans when he was stricken with polio. His condition was very serious during the first few days of his confinement as he developed pneumonia and had to be placed in an iron lung. The latest news is that James is out of the iron lung now during the day, but still is in need of it at night.

Mrs. McMillin has asked us to thank all of her friends in New Orleans and Waveland, Miss., for the wonderful help given to her family. Neighborhood prayers were started and the news had unanimous prayer.

Friends everywhere were trying to help, each in his own prayerful way. We are all hoping that James' condition improved daily and that we shall hear good news very soon. You may write James a note or a card at Polio Center, Charity Hospital, New Orleans.

Mrs. Van Beekink and her granddaughter, Lynn Frances DeBrekke, and grandson, Dick Jr., kept young appetites satisfied, attended the Jehovah's Witness Convention last week. Guests of the two young ladies

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY NOTES

All members are urged to participate in the Legion Auxiliary's annual meeting to be held Saturday, August 25, at the Hotel Westgate, New Orleans, at 1 p.m. The meeting will be followed by a luncheon.

The purpose of the luncheon will be to entertain the local council of the American Legion Auxiliary which is responsible for the 1955-1956 year. Guests from that branch are three-quarters of a million acres of Mississippi timberland in 1955. Because woodlotting today cannot continue to prosper unless it has raw material, due to growing timber need and because every year it is less than 1955 when forest fires struck down three and three-quarter million dollars worth of trees.

The American Legion Auxiliary participated in Kiddie Day activities for the benefit of the public pie. Ladies bearing charge of the cake booth were Mrs. Albert Beck, Mrs. Russell Blaine, Mrs. Rene Raymond, Mrs. John Weather, Mrs. F. H. Seeger, Mrs. Charlotte Lester, Mrs. Arthur Leibman and Mrs. Gordon Koenig.

Mrs. Charlotte Lester, first wife widow in the family, is a Junior Member of the Auxiliary. Mrs. Theo Tully also a member of the American Legion in the state department and national.

MISS. FORESTRY
CONFERENCE

The Mississippi Economic Council today called on business, civic and professional interests of the State to give "full support" to the Forest Fire Prevention Conference to be held in Jackson on September 14.

The Council, one of 22 public and private organizations sponsoring the conference, cited forestry as a major "link" in the state's economy. Lumber, paper-making and other forest industries account for almost half the industrial workers in the state.

SENATOR STEINER PLEASED WITH FARM HOME LOANS

United States Senator John Steiner said that the Department of Agriculture is doing a fine job in making immediately to implement legislation passed this year providing for building and remodeling farm houses and other farm buildings.

To be eligible, an applicant must live on the farm and receive a substantial part of his income from farming. The Mississippi Senator pointed out that these loans will not conflict with ones made by banks and other lending agencies as they are long-term loans extending the date of payment beyond those ordinarily covered by regular lending agencies.

Purpose of the conference is to map plans to wipe out forest fires in the state under as many possible. Record shows the state ranks second in the South in the number of fires, with the South leading the nation in the total number of fires. Experts say 95% of all forest fires are traceable to man.

A number of outstanding Mississippians, headed by Governor J. P. Coleman, will address the conference. State and National forestry leaders will be in attendance, and outline plans for combating fires at the county level. MEC president Fred B. Smith of Ripley, and Art Nelson, Jr., Meridian, Chairman of the Council committee on conservation of natural resources, have parts on the program.

The session begins at 10 a.m. in the Edwards Hotel. It adjourns at 12:15 p.m.

WHAT MISSISSIPPI
BANKERS HAD TO SAY
OF SAVINGS BONDS

"May 1942 marks the fifteenth anniversary of the United States Savings Bonds program, variously known throughout the period as defense bonds, war bonds, and finally, savings bonds."

"Bankers, at the beginning of the program were the first to whom appeal was made to implement it. They joined willingly and wholeheartedly in sales promotion and as issuing agents for bonds. During World War II bank personnel rendered yeoman service in the war bond effort and were largely instrumental in the State's exceeding every quota in the service war loan and Victory Loan campaigns."

"Since the war, bankers have been equally cooperative in the Savings Bonds program. More recently in those areas where the banks act as issuing agent, the postoffice has been relieved of responsibility in this field."

"All of the services performed by the banks in connection with U. S. Savings Bonds sales excepting their redemption, are performed gladly and without compensation, and many times at the sacrifice of deposits."

"For many people and institutions, there is a place in their thrift program for Savings Bonds and we urge the members of this Association to consult with their customers about a program of sales. Where the U. S. Savings Bond best fits, encourage its purchase."

"An absent-minded man called upon his old friend, the family doctor. After chattering for a couple of hours the doctor saw him to the door and, as he was shaking hands said: 'Come again again old chap. Family all well, I suppose?'

"'Good heavens!' exclaimed his visitor, 'that reminds me, my wife's in a fit.'

FEWER FIRES AND LESS AGRIAGE IS BURNED IN 1935-36

State Forester G. R. Martin gave credit today to a more careful public, alert Commission personnel and rains at opportune times for the best forest fire record during any fiscal year since the creation of the Forestry Commission in 1935. Martin said there were fewer fires and less acreage burned from July 1, 1935 to July 1, 1936 than in any other year when compared to the number of acres under protection.

A total of 98,749 acres were burned by 6,652 fires on 14,361,000 protected acres, Martin said. This compares to 124,776 acres lost last year to 8,665 fires on 13,187,000 protected acres.

"It seems that the State's citizens are becoming much more aware of the tremendous damage done by wild woods fires," Martin stated, "and they are reducing by being careful with fire in the woods and on the highways." He added, however, that timely rains were responsible for some of the fire reduction and that people must use even more care in helping to further reduce risk to timber.

The Southeast District was the hottest spot in the state last year where 14 protected counties, forty-eight percent of the total fires occurring burned 55% of the total acreage lost in the state.

According to Baker, jiu-jitsu—sometimes called judo—is simply a system of self-defense based on a knowledge of motor points and vulnerable parts of the body, and predicted on the idea of taking advantage of an opponent's weight and strength. Baker demonstrates with "fineness" what he teaches, tossing aside 200 lb. men who attempt to get their rough and tumble Americanized "best hold" on him.

The 48 recruits in the Patrol school spend most of the two hour judo class paired off, practicing the jiu-jitsu defenses taught by the instructor. The necessity for continuous practice is emphasized repeatedly by Baker. No one, he says, can completely master jiu-jitsu techniques without hours of practice—years.

Baker has taught judo to police departments and military organizations for some 35 years.

The outbreak of the First world War found Baker in Europe still studying physical training. He joined the British Army. Of his war experience with the British, the American national and Memphis, Tenn., native comments: "Oh, I just soldiered about a bit." After the war, he came home.

Of the study of jiu-jitsu, Baker says, "it is older than Christianity. Originally the exclusive secret of the Samurai or nobility of Japan, jiu-jitsu was not taught to 'outsiders' until the mid-19th century.
